

Dear Friends,

This is the joss house front, from the Round Hill joss house in New Zealand, that we are looking at possibly for the proposed Lytton Joss House restoration. It looks like it would be doable and might be a good fit for the original building:

http://www.teara.govt.nz/files/28395-atl_0.jpg

Also it has been decided that the large white marble statue of Kwan Yin that was being considered for the joss house site would be more appropriately placed up on Dragon Flower Mountain. This is the wish of the original donor of the statue and is fine with everybody else concerned.

Gassho,

Koten