

Attached is a picture of RM Koten pointing out a new meditation rock at the beginning of Compassion Road. Over the years we have been seeking out places all over the mountain that have a quality of stillness or have lovely views and setting them up with benches and statues or suitable rocks so that as visitors go on walks they will come across places to sit and be still. There are now more than a dozen such places. This is part of the long term vision for Dragon Flower Mountain.

The picture was taken by RM Aurelian.
