

Dear Friends,

The following poem was written by W.H. Auden at the outbreak of World War II - Hitler's invasion of Poland on Sept. 1st, 1939:

Please note the resonance with our times and the solution offered in training:- "showing an affirming flame" and doing something about the "error bred in the bone" of the basic selfishness that all beings share and that all need to address.

gassho,

Koten
