

We are happy to report that our new propane heater for Mandala Hall is up and working so we should be able to meditate there through the winter - we had major snow this morning.

Photo was taken by RM Aurelian

